Gains to Labor, Adequate Accounting Induce Board To Give Fiesta Free Hand

Another $6500 was whittled from the county budget requests by the board of supervisors Tuesday in one of its closing sessions on the maintenance and operations allowances, when it refused a blanket $10,000 asked by County Manager Frederick Peterson for the advertising fund and instead allowed $3500 for three specific items.

In a second move depriving the executive of powers requested, the supervisors voted down his proposal to examine all San Mateo County Fiesta claims by routing them through his office. Their plan is to permit the fiesta to continue as it has for the past two years, paying its expenses from a $10,000 bank account deposited to its credit by the county.

Last year the county executive had an advertising fund of $10,000, from which he paid part of a $13,578.08 contribution to San Francisco Peninsula Inc., $2500 for the California Mission Trails Association, $750 for membership in the California State Chamber of Commerce, and numerous other items.

NO ITEMIZED ACCOUNTING

The board said Peterson filed no itemized accounting of the expenditures from that fund, and Supervisor John A. Lynch added, "The board requested him to itemize the account but he refused."

Under the 1940-41 budget the board proposes to allow $2500 for Mission Trails, $750 for the state chamber, and $250 which already has been drawn for participation in the state American Legion Convention in San Diego next week.

The $250 for the American Legion was granted by the executive last fiscal year out of his general advertising fund, to advertise San Mateo County at the state meeting, but will have to be paid from this year's funds because the claim was not filed until this fiscal year.

No other items were provided for under the field formerly covered by the blanket $10,000 appropriation, giving the $6500 deduction in the budget. That, with other smaller items reduced in the final clean-up, has brought the supervisors' cuts in budget requests to about $45,000.

SFPI was granted $8921.92, the sum requested by the manager in a separate item. No additional funds will be available from a general advertising fund as was the case last year.

QUICK PAYMENTS POSSIBLE

In explaining the refusal to permit the executive to handle fiesta claims, Supervisor Fred E. Beer said:

"Three years ago the fiesta secured its funds by presenting claims up to $10,000 to the county controller, who paid them from the fiesta fund. The labor unions protested because it took anywhere from 10 days to two weeks to clear those claims through the controller's office so that union employes could secure their pay.

"In the face of that protest, the board two years ago instituted the practice of giving the fiesta a $10,000 banking account, so that payments could be made immediately.

"The county manager and the fiesta heads had several discussions on the possibility of clearing the claims through his office, we understand, so that he could have a check on where the funds were going, but we were informed by Chester Lipman, manager of the fiesta, that they reached no agreement.

EXPENSES AUDITED

"Therefore, we want to continue the practice of the last two years to assure union labor of prompt payment. The fiesta's books are audited at the end of each year, to check the expenditure of funds. Mar. 1 the budget had to be sent to the state controller, for a check on the expenditure of the state's contribution to the fiesta, and it has been returned with an o. k."

Spectacular Show Extended Two Weeks

San Francisco was given two more weeks of the season's most spectacular show yesterday when the current appearance of the Ice Follies of 1940 at Winterland was extended for two weeks.

Word of the longer engagement was accompanied by announcement of another matinee to be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. The beauties of grace and rhythm, blended with skill and masterful showmanship, are being unfolded nightly by the Ice Follies.

Different from a stage production because the entire ice rink is the stage and different completely from last year's sensational show, the new Ice Follies is attracting capacity audiences.

The revue first appeared in the Bay area last year, when 400,000 persons saw it in 17 weeks.

Most elaborate production number is the "Arctic Fantasy," which introduces the 1940 edition of the ice extravaganza.

This spectacular opening combines the full forces of the cast of 65 into a colorful prelude. Taking place in a far-north setting of igloos and northern lights, one group of blade ballerinas simulates the splendor of the Aurora Borealis by means of 30-foot streamers of varicolored china silk.

Sleigh-bells tinkle as the "Northern Belles" skate through a rhythmic routine costumed in chic Eskimo dress of fur-trimmed outfits and parkas. The routine is topped with a surprise finish.

Ice Follies tickets are available at Winterland, Walnut 0112, and at the Peninsula Box Office, 542 Ramona St., Palo Alto; PA 22122.

Decision in Annexation Case Becomes Official

Judge Maxwell McNutt has signed an order officially denying a writ of review in the Friendly Acres annexation election. City Atty. Albert Mansfield, who asked Judge McNutt to sign the papers making official a minute entry made June 6, said that the judgment probably would be filed tomorrow, after which the subdivision, located south of Redwood City, would become officially a part of Redwood City in 30 days if no appeal is taken from Judge McNutt's decision.

Oil Firm Becomes Fisk Tire Dealers

J. J. Baldwin, local sales representative of Tide Water Associated Oil Co., announces his company has completed arrangements for the sale of Fisk tires throughout the Pacific Coast marketing territory. This move is the result of extensive study of tires and tire marketing problems in the West and is designed to offer Associated customers the finest value in tires afforded today.

Baldwin stressed the features of the Fisk Safti-Flight tire with its exclusive patented white rubber insert tread which had led to the claim that this famous creation of Fisk is the safest tire ever built.

The famous Fisk trade mark, the "Time to Retire" boy has been known to motorists throughout the world for many years.

Newspaper advertising is being used to introduce Pacific Coast motorists to this new service, whereby Fisk tires can now be obtained at Associated service stations throughout the West.

San Mateo County Gains in Gas Taxes From Population Boosts

Despite protests voiced soon after census figures for San Mateo County cities were announced, increased in populations already are resulting in benefits to the county, it was announced here.

The 12 incorporated cities of the county will gain $6156 for work of major streets and a like amount for state highways within their limits from the state quarter-cent gas tax funds which are apportioned on a population basis.

The county was the only one of the nine in the Fourth Highway District to gain over previous allocations, all others showing losses. Other counties are Alameda, San Francisco, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Sonoma.

FHA 'Averages'

Dinettes Gaining Favor in Small Homes

Fashions in the design of small homes are changing. Dining rooms appear to be doomed, and one-story dwellings are gaining in favor, it is revealed in the current crop of plans and specifications submitted to the Northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration.

While dining rooms are shrinking into dinettes, living rooms are said to be growing larger in modern home design. The trend definitely is away from two story structures and even elevated bedrooms, popular in recent years, are being frowned upon by modern home stylists.

The average small home now being built in this district for financing under the federal housing plan was found to be what builders term a four and one-half room house. It contains living room, two bedrooms, bath, dinette, kitchen, tubs and laundry facilities on rear porch, and detached garage. Both stall shower and tub are found in many modern bathrooms.

Outside metropolitan areas, the average FHA appraised value of homes of this type is $3500, and they are being bought with down payments averaging $400, and financed by insured mortgages approximating $3100. Payments on an FHA insured loan for that amount are $18.84 a month when written for the full term of 25 years, and $20.85 a month when written for a 20-year period.

These include payments on principal and 4½ per cent interest and ½ per cent mortgage insurance premium, both computed on outstanding declining balances. For added convenience to home owners, the annual local taxes and fire insurance are divided by 12 and included in the monthly payments.

In metropolitan areas where land values are higher, the average FHA appraised value of small house and lot was shown to be between $5000 and $6000. The average down payment is $600 and insured mortgages average slightly less than $5400. Monthly payments range from $25 to $32.50 a month, plus taxes and insurance, depending upon the amount involved and whether the insured mortgage is written for 25 or 20 years.

In practically all cases of small homes built under FHA inspection, exteriors are shorn of fancy filigree, unnecessary corners and gables are eliminated, and dimensions are arranged to utilize mill length timbers and materials, without waste.

Now Is the Time To Install a Heater

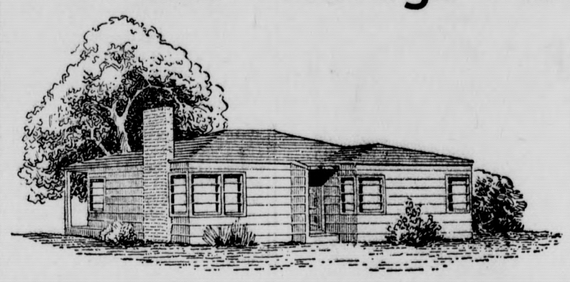
The prospect of renewing the endless "fight against the old furnace" next Fall may be wiped out entirely by the installation of a modern, efficient heating plant.

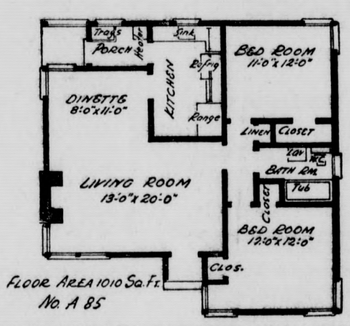
Thousands of home owners have saved themselves much money in fuel costs, repair expenses, and even in doctor's bills by introducing the latest scientific heating units into their homes with funds obtained from private lending institutions under the modernization credit plan of the FHA.

With low monthly payments these home owners have not only insured their homes against the hazards and troubles of an outdated heating system, but have also succeeded in making their basements attractive by utilizing the extra space for dens, workrooms or playrooms.

Small House

'Laurel' Home Is Offered For the Average Pocketbook





The "Laurel" design is offered by Northern California Homes Foundation as one of a series of modern California small-home plans developed by the building industry of the Golden State.

This group of designs has its source in the planning services of retail lumbermen in several localities. Each is a product of local initiative and enterprise in meeting the needs and preferences of California families seeking home ownership.

The Laurel is a home of light and space and practicality and is available to the average family pocketbook. A feature is the combination L-shaped living and dining room, providing an amazing amount of space for a home with an area of 1010 square feet.

Information and service on the Laurel may be had from local retail lumber dealers or from Northern California Homes Foundation, 1833 Broadway, Fresno.

It's very nice, especially in warmer climes, for the porch to pass as many rooms as possible and to open to all. An opening directly to the dining room is especially important.

It's not necessary to get out the old oil can for creaking hinges. Just rub lead pencil into the crevices.

Real Estate Market Shows Improvement

CHICAGO—Real estate market conditions have shown less change the past six months than in any corresponding period in more than ten years, the semi-annual survey of the National Association of Real Estate boards indicated today.

Newton C. Fair, president of the association, said this testifies to "something quite stable in our national economy" in view of world wide changes due to the European war.

Aside from the outlook for increased industrial activity as a result of the national defense program and prospects of increased requirements for industrial space, some efforts of wartime uncertainties are visible in the survey, Farr said.

In 47 per cent of the reporting cities sales were more active than a year ago while only 15 per cent showed business was slower. Prices now hold at least to last year's level in 72 per cent of the cities, have improved in 13 per cent and declined in 15 per cent.

By Wise Choice of Goods Amateurs Can Combine Furniture Types Like Experts

Good Taste

How You Can Redecorate

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Midsummer furniture prices, offering a bumper crop of bargains in separate and odd pieces, as well as in related groups, give the amateur decorator a chance to follow the professionals' example of using different woods and different periods in the same room.

"Furniture of different periods, of about the same date, can be combined compatibly," says one important decorator. "Using different woods in one room not only is permissible, but often most desirable," she continues.

Then she shows one room with French Provincial walnut and early American maple arrestingly combined. The warm brown walnut with the honeyed tones of the maple is pleasing as a contrast as well as restful to the eye.

WALNUT GOES WELL WITH MAHOGANY

In another room by a decorator, handsome Georgian walnut pieces share the spotlight with later—and lighter—English 18th century furniture. A wing chair, an octagonal table, candle stand and coffee table are in walnut, while secretary, commode, mirror and upholstered chair are in mahogany.

In other words, if you need a new coffee table for a room furnished in English 18th century mahogany, you may consider the Georgian walnut, the French Provincial, even the modern coffee tables displayed in sales, as well as the 18th century mahogany ones.

Georgian walnut and the later 18th Century mahogany are combined in this charming living room. The nice effect is proof that you don't have to stick to one period or a specific wood when shopping for furniture during midsummer sales.

In one of the newest exhibition rooms, there's prodigal use of stripped pine with only a few pieces of mahogany. Just the reverse of the usual procedure. The breakfast, two important consoles, a handsome library desk and two lamp tables at either end of the sofa are in stripped pine. The coffee table is painted a lovely tone of cafe au lait that harmonizes perfectly. Two lounging chairs have mahogany frames and legs, and besides one is a quaint 18th century plant stand in mahogany.

Harmony

Make the Best Of Variety

In modern exhibition rooms there is wide use of bleached walnut with natural American walnut. And often natural walnut is combined with one of the other bleached woods.

French Provincial schemes, when not in all walnuts, usually are walnut and fruit wood.

BLACK LACQUER IS FINE CONTRAST TO MAPLE

Black, painted pieces set off early American maple. For instance, a black ladder back chair is lovely with a maple desk or dressing table. Mahogany is attractive with maple—attractive and right. Black lacquer chairs are handsome beside a Queen Anne walnut drop-leaf table or low chest. Four black lacquer chairs might make a permanent grouping around a walnut card table.

Satinwood and mahogany are nice together. And one of the most attractive living rooms we have seen has a low modern coffee table of bleached mahogany, two consoles and a plant stand of walnut and a desk and two beautiful side chairs of rich, mellow mahogany. The walls are pale, grayish green, the rug a slightly deeper green.

Incidentally, we have seen a number of floors covered wall to wall with carpeting that matches exactly the color of the walls.

Cheer Up! Make Those Dark Hallways Bright

Depressing's the word for dark, glum-looking hallways. There ought to be a law against them. No matter how small, ill-lighted or ill-favored a hallway may be, there's bound to be some way to make it cheerful, smart-looking and distinctive.

Take the case of the hall that seemed quite a problem child. It was dark, to begin with, and its awkard shape seemed to preclude attractive furnishing. Too much pattern on both the wall and floor surfaces crowded the small area still more. Definitely outmoded hatrack, umbrella stand and lighting fixture completed the uninviting picture.

The problems to be solved, then, were these: The hall must be made to look lighter—larger, if possible. Beautiful and harmonious color must be introduced. Ingenious decoration must be utilized to give the hall distinction and style.

CEILING IN WHITE

First of all, the ceiling was painted white so that it would serve as a light-reflecting surface. The walls were coated a lovely tint of pale gray; the woodwork, oyster white. These light tints augmented the illumination of the hall and gave a greater sense of spaciousness.

Against this background, the door—painted a rich cherry red—stood out in the full beauty of its color. Echoing the cherry red tone were the simple draperies which framed the oyster white Venetian blind at the window. The blind, incidentally, admitted light but concealed the ugly wall beyond. Beneath the window a seat with a hinged lid was built in. This provides a place for the storing of galoshes, overshoes and roller skates. Clamps, attached to the inner side of the lid, hold umbrellas.

MIRROR FOR DISTINCTION

Adding distinction to the hall besides reflecting light and color, a large mirror—approximately door size—was placed on the wall oposite the window. This has a flower box at its base which contains a row of thickly planted sansevieria. The rich green of their leaves is repeated in the padded cushion of the window seat and the soft green of the floor covering. The carpeting on the stairs again echoes the cherry color.

An additional feature of the rejuvenated hall is the tiny powder room which was formerly a dark closet beneath the stairs. When the door to this closet is proudly swung open now, a gay little dressing table is revealed. The inner walls of the closet and the inner side of the door are coated gloss white. The mouldings surrounding the panels on the door are emphasized in cherry red. The mirror frame that hangs above the dressing table is also coated cherry red. The dressing table, with its twin white-shaded lamps, is, incidentally, nothing more than a white painted shelf, skirted with cherry colored fabric and festooned decoratively with white cotton rope.

Commercial ice cream production in the U. S. last year was estimated at 290,000,000 gallons.

Refrigerator Is a Necessity

A modern refrigerator is essential to the well-furnished home.

Colors in the Home Affect the Lighting

Interior colors in a home influence not only the effectiveness of a house but even the comfort and well-being of the family.

A hundred-watt bulb might be bright enough to read by in a room with white or cream walls, while the same bulb in a room with red or blue walls wouldn't give enough light to prevent eye-strain.

An idea of the relation of color to light may be gained from these facts presented by the Federal Housing Administration: Paperwhite reflects as much as 80 per cent of the light in a room, but tinted with ivory it drops to 78 per cent. Add a little tan and its reflecting value is lowered to 64 per cent in the scale.

The back porch is the favorite of 1940, with house offsets at the sides, or trellised vines, and a charming back-yard garden view. This idea has taken so well that the kitchen is often put up in front.

SMJC Coach Called To U. S. Reserve Duty

SAN MATEO—E. H. Bashor, San Mateo Junior College citizenship instructor and tennis coach, has been raised to the rank of full commander in the United States Navy Reserve and called to active duty, it was announced here.

The well known San Mateo educator, on receiving orders to report for active duty in the purchasing department of the 12th Naval District at San Francisco, filed a request with the Junior College District Board for a year's leave of absence.

Bashor took his examinations for the commander rank early this year and the confirmation of his appointment came through only recently.

He entered the Navy in 1917, before war was declared, and put in three years of overseas duty. He resigned in 1919 as a lieutenant but reported to the 12th Naval District for reserve service. In 1926 he was appointed fourth fleet division supply officer.

In 1932 Bashor went back to Washington for service in the Navy Department there, after which he gained the rank of lieutenant commander he held until his recent promotion.

He has been at the junior college since 1923. Before that he was on the faculty at Palo Alto High School. He is a graduate of Harvard University.

Ken Sheets Appointed Life Guard at Harbor

Appointment of Ken Sheets, 1147 Clinton St., Redwood City, Sequoia High School graduate and holder of a senior certificate in life saving, as temporary life guard at Redwood City Yacht Harbor was announced here by City Manager C. L. Dimmitt.

Sheets will be on duty at the harbor from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. daily, working on an hourly basis, at least until other arrangements are made by the recreation commission, which last night had jurisdiction of the yacht harbor handed to it by the port commission.

Employment of a life guard was authorized by the city council Monday as the result of the drowning last week of Russell J. Larson.

MENLO PARK VETERAN DIES

REASONABLE PRICES FOR DENTAL PLATES MADE OF BEAUTIFUL TRANSPARENT MATERIALS

The beauty and natural appearance of the transparent dental plate materials are acclaimed by many dentists, who find in them a harmony of color tones that are gratifying to the eye—so lifelike . . . so dainty . . . and so well adapted to their use in the making of dental plates that, when coupled with the careful selection and setting of the new scientifically designed teeth, they are factors that tend to the retention of a charming and attractive smile. Their beautiful, natural, tissue-like tint is a revelation of artistry in delicate coloring.

PIED PIPER TO BLAME?

GOSS, Mo. (AP)—There's not a child of school age residing in Goss. The town has a population of 30 persons ,exactly half of whom are more than 65 years of age.

The Bahamas had waves of prosperity during the United States Civil War and during prohibition as a result of smuggling.

Brazil has an area some 250,000 square miles larger than that of the United States.

Two Former Residents Of Shanghai Move to R. C.

From the same locality nearly half way across the world have two families come, unbeknownst to each other, to live in Redwood City, one temporarily, one perhaps permanently.

Both were influenced to come here by the climate—one directly because of the much-discussed sign,"Redwood City, Climate Best by Government Test," which spans El Camino Real but is threatened because of the planned widening of the highway.

It was N. S. Vinogradoff, who with Mrs. Vinogradoff, chose Redwood City because of the sign, which he saw while motoring along the Peninsula. In America for six months' vacation from his position in the Chinese Customs Service, Vinogradoff plans to spend half of that time in Redwood City. He and Mrs. Vinogradoff have taken an apartment at 100 Duane St. At the end of his long vacation, similar to one granted him each six years, he will return to Shanghai, China where has lived for 20 years. He is a native of Russia.

The other newcomer to Redwood City, also a former resident of Shanghai, is Jake Zarchin, who is engaged in the import-export business, with offices in San Francisco and China. He moved yesterday into a new home at 417 King St., and plans to be here indefinitely, having changed the location of his operations from Shanghai to San Francisco.

Neither man knew the other in China, but when informed by the Tribune of each other's presence in the same city, each planned to contact the other to become acquainted.

It was City Councilman Floyd D. Granger, salesman for Redwood City Hardware Co., who learned of the presence of the two former Shanghai residents in Redwood City, and informed the Tribune.

Petition Presented 20-30 Club Sponsors

Institution of a 20-30 Club in Redwood City progressed another step Tuesday when a local group of young men headed by Willie Silva as temporary chairman were presented with a petition for permission to form a 20-30 club here. The presentation was made at a dinner meeting at Sodini's by representatives of San Mateo-Burlingame and Palo Alto clubs. Silva said that nearly 15 men—number required to form a club here—had signed their intention of becoming charter members. Another meeting of the group will be held next Tuesday at 7 p. m. at Sodini's.

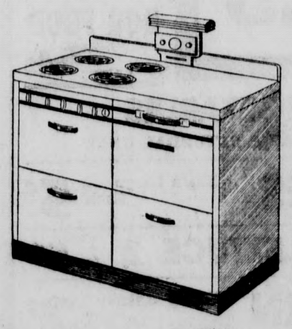
Cook ELECTRICALLY



Why be moored to a hot kitchen this summer by an old-fashioned stove? You'll escape it if you will cook electrically, as thousands of other California housewives are doing. Electric cooking is automatic. You put food into the electric oven. You set time and temperature controls. You have nothing more to do. An electric range does ONE job capably—it cooks food—not the cook.

You can afford this new luxury of California living. It is not expensive. Electric Range prices have never been lower—probably less than you paid for your present stove. Electricity for cooking is cheap in California—very little more perhaps than your present fuel costs. Will you look into electric cooking for your home NOW? You really should do it.

New Setup Is Expected

The first official step in the plan to turn over the recreation facilities at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor to the city's recreation commission, a plan which has been under consideration for some time, was taken by the Redwood City Board of Port Commissioners Tuesday.

The commission adopted a resolution by which "all recreational facilities, berths for yachts, swimming floats, operation of the boat house and sanitary facilities" will be turned over to the recreation commission for operation, the port commission "retaining jurisdiction over the real property and water ways adjacent thereto."

Final step in the transfer of jurisdiction is expected to be taken next Tuesday when the recreation commission is presented the resolution for acceptance. It is a foregone conclusion that the commission will accept the change.

Explaining the action of the harbor board, Port Manager Leslie M. Rudy said:

"It is felt that by taking this action the recreational interests at the Yacht Harbor may be better served by reason of the recreation commission's direct interest in recreational matters, particularly in view of their ability to secure funds in addition to those provided from the city treasury or resulting from operation of the yacht harbor."

One of the problems passed on to the recreation commission will be that of providing safeguards and regulations for swimming at the harbor. Until such safeguards are provided, a lifeguard is to be employed at the port.

The port commission last night also authorized the purchase of handling equipment for the warehouse and approved general terms of a storage agreement with Schuckl & Co., which used the building last year and this season expects to store some 200,000 cases of canned goods there.

Unloading some 500,000 feet of lumber at the municipal harbor today was the schooner Esther Johnson.

The first U. S. President who was born an American rather than a British subject was Martin Van Buren.
